After Winston Churchill gets through running for governor of New Hampshire, he will have plenty of time to write a new story.

Perhaps the Republican campaign managers in Vermont, who went to Beverly Thursday, returned with a little "ginger" to continue the fight which was only half done in the September election. Perhaps so.

"The Woodbury Granite Co. of Barre, Vt.," says a contemporary. There is little wonder that such a mistake should be made; but to preserve exact truth, it should be stated that the Woodbury Co. is located a few miles from Barre.

We don't object to New York's getting that part of Vermont which is represented by 300,000 cubic feet of granite for the huge Western Union building to be built at the corner of Broadway and Dey street; it is the greed of New York in taking Vermont men and women that we object to. Pay for our mineral wealth is poor compensation for taking some of the best blood of Vermont, but there is some consolation in the thought that the pay for the stone means a little toward the rebuilding of Vermont. Therefore, take all the granite you can pay for.

A NEW YORK INDICATION POLITICALLY.

The New York Sun recently conducted a poll of voters in four election districts in New York City to ascertain the preference for president of the United States, the districts selected being those where "average voters" predominate, rather than where there are extremes. As a result of that canvass, it finds that Wilson, Democrat, has a large plurality over either Roosevelt or Taft, and that the former had thirteen more votes than the latter out of 988 votes for a total. These same election districts in 1908, the last presidential election, gave Taft a majority of 304, showing a gain for the Democratic party and a marked falling-off for the Republican party as measured by the Taft and Roosevelt votes. Working from this as a basis, the Sun figures that Wilson would have a majority of one vote over Taft and Roosevelt in the four election districts next November, and a plurality of nearly 400 votes over either Roosevelt or Taft. Undoubtedly, too, if the same measure of variation is to be experienced throughout other parts of the state, New York will go Democratic by a considerable margin; but northern New York is not likely to show such marked decrease in the Taft vote and such great defection from the Republican party to Roosevelt, thus balancing to a certain extent the Wilson ascendancy in New York City. However, the chances seem to favor the predominance of the Wilson influence in New York City over the remainder of the state.

The Blue Serge Suit is the center of popularity, never becomes commonplace any more than air and water or other necessities.

It has distinction when made up and fitted our way. $20 buys a medium weight, desirable from every point of view; a few dollars more means a finer fabric and a silk lining.

Other styles, other fabrics and other prices from $15.00 to $35.00.

Your money returned for any purchase that proves unsatisfactory.
